The public high school has slowly evolved through the last century coincident with the growth of the nation itself. The function of the school has been to prepare people to be better citizens, to so educate those who make up democracy that they can understand its purposes and participate more intelligently and efficiently in its manifold activities. In other words, the school helps to protect and perpetuate the government, and in turn, the government maintains and promotes the school.

The great thinkers who founded our nation did not regard education merely as one of the incidental functions of democracy. Time and time again they spoke of schools as the primary means through which blessings of democracy were to become the one inheritance of all.

During the course of the four years you have spent in this school, you have been exposed to the fine democratic traditions which form the very foundation of our school. I charge you with the responsibility to take them with you, and to use them as guide posts in the turbulent times which lie ahead.

Sports

Have we got a team! We'll say we have. On the gridiron, in the arena, on the tennis court, and on the diamond the boys had grand seasons. The highlight of the athletic year was the marvelous record of our basketball team. Victory was the middle name of every Ram and we are certainly proud of them.

STUDENT COUNCIL

President.....Frank Zabransky
Vice-President.....Dominick Viscardi
Secretary .....Edward Tomaszewski
Treasurer.....Lucy Fabrizio
Faculty Adviser.....Mr. Louis March

The Student Council, under the able supervision and advice of the Director of Activities, Mr. March, has played an important part in the planning of various activities held during the school year. This organization has as its members representatives of the entire student body who serve as the legislative group of our school.

The Council has purchased honor society and sequenc honor pins for students who have earned them.

The annual Christmas charity movie was a successf event. Baskets for the needy families were distribute throughout the towns whose students attend our school. Can paigns for the Junior Red Cross Council of Bergen Count were conducted for the purpose of aiding that worth organization.

It is this able organization that has planned so many the successful dances and enjoyable programs. Among th novel presentations conducted by the Council was the "Pr fessor Knowsit" contest. This program met with the hear approval of the audience. Several important speakers al entertained the student body.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

"The emblem of this society is the keystone and the flaming torch. The Keystone bears at its base the letters S, L, C, and S, which stand for the four cardinal principles of its organization: Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service."

The constitution provides that the student, to become a member of this worthy organization, must rank in the upper third of his class in scholarship, must excel in character, must possess leadership, and must have contributed some real service to the school.

President.....Frank Zabransky
Secretary.....Carmela Verga
Sponsor.....Mrs. Helen Karcher

Members elected in 1940: Frank Zabransky, Frank Dresdale, Lucy Fabrizio, Alice Hartwick, Edythe Houlik, Charles Schumacher, Catherine Shortway, Marie Tonks, Carmela Verga, Edward Tomaszewski

DRAMATIC CLUB

President.....Alice Hartwick
Vice-President.....Marie Guerrera
Secretary.....Rose Romano
Treasurer.....Marie Galmich
Sponsor.....Mr. George Duggan

The first big event of the year was the presentation of a three act play "Speak for Yourself, Joan." On March 6 the club presented in assembly an old fashioned melodrama, "Curses on You, Jack Dalton." In addition to this, skits and one act plays were presented to the club during its bi-monthly meetings.

Members elected in 1941: Ethel Klecar, Lucy Melber, Francis Kubat, Melvin Williams, Corrine Aberg, Alyce Hansen, Ella Baillie, Eleanor Pokrowski, Carmella Ditta, Edward Govignon, John Lopez, Louis Gebbia, Anna Hyvl, Eleanor Milano, Isadora Como, Lucia Di Giovanni, Irene Roslasly, Marion Hoving, Marie Galmiche, and Rose Romano.

CHOIR

The Choir had an active year taking part in a concert for the students in the fall, Christmas Carols for the holidays, Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises in June.

BAND

The band is the influential factor that encourages school spirit during pep assemblies and at games. Those who attended the games readily recall the spirited and colorful atmosphere created by our band when it marched over the field in the various drill formations. The members were dressed in the new orange and blue uniforms, which were certainly very attractive.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra has had a most successful year. It has played for the students at assembly many times.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club gave a concert in assembly in the fall and participated in the Christmas Carol Services.

LIBRARY COUNCIL

LIBRARY COUNCIL .....
President.....Ethel Miscuff
Vice-President.....Anna Mamola
Secretary.....Irene Lacetola
Treasurer.....Marion Macko
Sponsor.....Miss Gertrude Le Vow

The members of the Library Council are individuals who like the atmosphere of a library. For this reason they are particularly apt in the duties to which they have pledged themselves. This year the members enjoyed a visit to the New York Library.

GIRLS' VOCATIONAL CLUB

President.....Irene Rosiasly
Secretary.....Eleanor Milano
Sponsors.....Miss Rosa Stassi
Miss Concetta Toronto
Mrs. Julia Eisner

The Vocational Club has been formed this past year. Any senior or junior girl can gain membership. The purpose of the club is to aid the girls in selecting their vocations. A novel idea was the monthly luncheons where various speakers were presented to the members.

AVIATION CLUB

Aviation Club.....
President.....Louis Infante
Vice President.....Walter Diaczok
Secretary.....Robert Shaw
Treasurer.....John Siska
Sponsor.....Mr. Angelo Macaluso

The Aviation Club, organized for the purpose of furthering knowledge in aviation and building model planes, is one of the most active clubs in our school.

During the year the members entered models in meets at various places. Jerry Hochheiser was the winner of one of the glider contests.

The members made trips to Teaneck Aviation School, Bendix, Trenton, Casey Jones School of Aeronautics and the Newark Airport.

VARSITY CLUB

President.....John Cramer
Vice President.....Edward Czaikoski
Secretary.....Harold Piazza
Treasurer.....Joe Bombace
Sponsor.....Mr. Stanley Piela

The Varsity Club came into existence in 1934 and has been an active organization ever since. Any athlete who has earned a varsity letter in any major sport (football, baseball, or basketball) can gain membership. The purpose of the club is to encourage all boys with athletic ability to compete in various sports.

The Varsity Club holds a Varsity Dance every year in order to get jackets for senior members.

STUDENT SERVICE

The purposes of the Student Service are to direct traffic, prohibit loitering in the halls, and to assure punctuality of students in reporting to classes.

During the course of this year, the Hi-Y members have become affiliated with the Student Service organization. The boys in this group have been under the supervision of Mr. Maggese and Mr. Scibetta.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

President .....Eleanor Pokrowski
Vice President.....Evelyn Kobscenski
Secretary.....Jane Smolak
Treasurer.....Florence Maciag
Sponsor.....Miss Kathryn Wisse

The Commercial Club is an organization which seeks to bind in common interest all students in the commercial course. At the meetings members attempt to improve their skill in the various busines fields. Members are taught to use the various types of business equipment that are available in the school.

NATURE CLUB

President.....Harriet Heckel
Vice President.....Marie Pytlik
Secretary.....Constance Baldino
Treasurer.....Eleanor Svec
Sponsor.....Mr. Edward Grohman

The object of the Nature Club is to further the knowledge of the members concerning things in biology. In order to reach this goal the club has made projects on conservation, and biological slides of pollen grains.

ENTRE NOUS

President.....Adele Olejarz
Vice President.....Ethel Klecar
Secretary.....Charlotte Baranski
Treasurer.....Douglas Emr
Sponsor.....Miss Lillian Narotsky

The French Club aims to promote a better understanding toward and an appreciation of the French language and French culture.

Among the activities of the past year were reports on French life and the singing of songs that are characteristic of the various provinces.

IL CIRCOLO ITALIANO

President.....Carmela Verga
Vice President.....Dominick Viscardi
Secretary.....Elroy Di Maria
Treasurer.....Lucia Di Giovanni
Sponsor.....Miss Rosa Stassi

The Italian Club is composed of members who seek through their club activities to become better acquainted with the cultural side of Italian life and Italian language. The annual events are the presentation of an Italian play and a visit to the Metropolitan Opera.

TRI-Y

President.....Lucy Fabrizio
Vice President.....Alice Hartwick
Secretary.....Margaret Kasper
Treasurer.....Carmela Verga
Sponsor.....Miss C. Toronto

This has been a successful year for the Tri-Y Club. The club was organized for the purpose of promoting good friendship among the girls in the school, and this aim has been fulfilled.

The outstanding event was the barn dance, held in conjunction with the Hi-Y. Also in conjunction with the Hi-Y were the trip to West Point, where the girls saw a very interesting game, a social which was enjoyed by everyone, and the charity dances which were conducted in the afternoon for the purpose of aiding the needy families at Christmas time.

Roller skating parties and a Faculty Tri-Y basketball game were held during the winter months. An award of a trip to Washington, D. C., with the senior class was made to a senior girl, Carmella Ditta.

HI-Y

President.....Matthew Stolarz
Vice President.....Howard Gaul
Secretary.....Frank Zabransky
Treasurer.....Dominick Viscardi
Sponsor.....Mr. Mario Scibetta

Among the club's many activities were a gala barn dance and the charity afternoon dances. The members also enjoyed a basketball game with the faculty, a social with the Tri-Y and a trip to West Point. Throughout the year the Hi-Y members have been obliged to live up to the Hi-Y slogan of clean sportsmanship, clean living, clean character, and clean scholarship.

SENIOR BALL

Friday, December 6, 1940

Mrs. Karcher and the committees in charge of the Senior Ball waved their magic wands over our gym and turned it into a beautiful Venetian Ballroom. Chandeliers, draperies, and columns made it a typical Venetian setting. To make the scene complete, many beautiful waltzes were played by the orchestra, led by Chick Eastwood. Everyone, the faculty as well as the students, had an enjoyable evening.

The committees in charge of the affair were:

SENIOR PLAY

"Janey's One Track Mind"

Presented on the evening of February 11 by the Senior Class, "Janey's One Track Mind" offered the audience the amusing experiences of a young girl who went in search of glamour in order to win her man.

The play centered around Janey Browne, a sweet young girl of eighteen who came to the city to live with her brother and his wife. After looking for work in vain, Janey gave up hope of ever working. Martin Richardson, a friend of her brother's was attracted to her, in spite of the difference in their ages. Then Janey decided that if she married Martin, her problem would be solved. If Janey hoped to compete with the other girls to win Martin, she was told that she must brush up on her manners and appearance. Consequently she and a few of her friends, even the mother of one, began to take glamour lessons. In the meantime she met a local farm boy, Stuart Hunter, who raised rabbits. He fell "head over heels" in love with Janey. This, of course, complicated matters. At the end of the glamour lessons, Janey was an entirely different person. When a crisis befell Stu, Janey came to his rescue and realized that she was really in love with Stu and not with Martin as she had thought.

"A DAY AT CAMP JEFFERSON"

"There you are, Miss Kasper, your hair looks beautiful; that new style hairdress is very becoming to you," said Josephine Wojasiuk, the chief beautician at the Lodi Loveliness Beauty Salon. "Why, here comes your sister reporter, Miss Hofstra."

"Come on, Margie, we'll miss our bus and we certainly need time for our assignment at Camp Jefferson."

"All right, I'm ready. Let's go!"

"My goodness, here comes our bus already. We just made it! Well, look who the driver is—Bob Abend, our old classmate!"

"Hi, Bob!"

"Hello, girls, glad to see you again. What are you going to Camp Jefferson for?"

"Oh, Margie and I were assigned to write a story of life at camp."

"Well, you certainly are going to meet many of your old friends there. Among the recruits I took out on this morning's trip to Camp were John Bacik, Virgil La Rosa, Elroy Sudeck, George Cochet, James Thorne, Frank Diraimondo, Rosario Zangara, John Mandara, Jacob Wisse, Frank Fragale, Joseph Poupon and William Bailey."

"It looks like a grand get-together, doesn't it, Bob?"

"Yes, it certainly does. Look at all the beautiful wives here on the bus with us going up to visit their husbands at camp."

"Mmmmm . . . Why, there are some girls we used to go to school with! I recognize Edith Albrecht, Frances Leone, Rosalie Vallorano, Suzanne Barry, Marie Tonks, Edna Mae Carlisle, Mary Miller, Valerie Dobrowsky, Betty Schurman, Althea Dinsmore, Tessie Bonetti, Ruth Feaster, Carmelita Caltagirone, Julia Paluszek, Mildred Riili and Carmela Verga. The soldiers will surely be happy to see them."

"My, that was a short ride. Here we are at camp already."

"Well, goodbye, Bob."

"So long, girls, see you again when you want a bus ride."

"Let's go to the reception room and get a guide to show us around."

We were surprised to find that the receptionist was Anne Trongone and that Mike Grembowiec, a drillmaster, was assigned as our guide.

While going through Camp, we watched the soldiers at drill. It was fun to see Alfred Vinci, Ed Flejzor, Zeb Czaikowski, John Cramer, Melvin Williams, Joe Bombace, Walter Bucko and Anthony Barresi putting the soldiers through their paces. Among the buck privates we noticed Jack

Daly, Tony Visocki, Henry De Koyer, John Sivilich, Anthony Chinni, Frank Oddo, Victor Biegel, Patsy Cuttitta, Joseph Tackacs, George Hollman, Amadeo De Palma, John Bombace, Tony De Franco, Anthony Manna, Henry Boruta, Alfred Macaluso, John Skrzypacz, Walter Fitzgerald, Jack Cheppo, Teddy Salek, Teddy Kozlowski, Paul Scott, and Richard D'Andreas.

As we watched these sturdy young Americans parading, a group of visiting sailors and naval officers arrived. We recognized and greeted Joseph Bochiaro, Henry Di Yanni, Teddy Kraska, Herman Teske, David Schurman, Joe Gerofsky, Slavomir Nepil, Edward Sisko, and John Paladino.

We proceeded on our way through the camp and we met two very tired young men, Richard Kaye and Frank Vopasek, who were just returning from a fifteen-mile hike. They were being sketched by commercial artists who were interested in "The Typical Soldier." Those artists we knew were Benjamin Velardo, Nunzio Speziale, Edith Nazzaro, and Ethel Thomas.

All at once, we heard someone behind us shout: "Hold it—that's it—now, smile into the camera." We turned and saw a group of photographers, taking pictures of the famous naval pilot, Joseph Locascio, who was visiting Camp Jefferson to discuss matters of military importance (not divulged to us) with the well known airplane designer, Dick Firrera. The photographers we knew were Edward Den Braber, Anna Mamola, and Howard Griffith.

Our guide next took us to the hangars and garages. Here we met more classmates engaged in various activities. We spoke to John Diorio, head of the mechanics, and Elmer Griep, head of the motor division. Among the mechanics we sighted were Gerard Beckmann, Charles Johnson, Carl Riley, Luke Cuccio, Jack Napoli, Frank Averso, Angelo Lo Dico, Sam Conti, Charles Hohn, Mario Lettich, Walter Diaczok, Stanley Kosinski, and Fred De Minno.

Joe Trongone, Joseph Ferrara, Rosario Granata, John Houlik, Charles Schumacher and Carmelo Signorelli were among the aviators at the hangars.

We had chats with Doris Dehrenbach, Vincenza Calandro, Louise Alesso, Irene Lacetola and Arlene Kwitchoff, who were among the many beautiful air hostesses stopping off at the camp.

Others working at the garages were welders and machinists. The welders included Sylvester Siconolfi and Joseph Russo, and the machinists we knew were Alex Di Chiara and Carmello Pecorino.

On our tour we stopped in at the camp hospital. Here we were greeted by Frank Dresdale, the camp dentist, and his assisting nurse, Rose Torre. They took us around the hospital and we watched many of our old classmates at work. Some of the staff physicians we knew were Frank Zabransky, Fred Heinige, and Michael Olasin.

The chemists, Bob Macchi, John Costa, Richard Pflaum, Albert Rieck, and Henry Pisinger, turned out to be old classmates also.

Assisting the doctors as nurses were Margaret Dunn, Gloria Chantler, Ann Bednarz, Hattie Miller, Claire Fox, Mae Simon, Adeline Giannini, Lottie Skrzypek, Edna Mae Kreager, Filomena Sudol, Concetta Nocito, Filomena Solimine, Anna Perrelli, and Adele Olejarz. The camp dietitians we recognized were Josephine Orlando and Christine Paparozzi.

On our way to the camp offices we encountered Joe De Pisa, caretaker of the army horses, and Matt Stolarz, captain of the cavalry unit.

As we went through the many clerical offices we stopped to chat with numerous old classmates. Mary De Soma, an old friend, who was in charge of all the secretaries, showed us around. Here we saw Margaret Adams, Lillian Wojtack, Frances Kubat, Antoinette Bua, Helen Gramkow, Corrine Aberg, Jane Szczur, Josephine De Rosa, Concetta Torina, Elizabeth Eickhorst, Dorothy Sweerus, Carmella Ditta, Eileen Fisher, Mary Petretti, Sarah Inglima, Kathryn Shortway, Kate Gannaio, Mabel Hudos, Victoria Saluppo, Catherine Robol, Angelina Gullo, Beatrice Sabatino, Alyce Hansen, Jean Martello, Jennie Jasnowitz, Anna Mae Paskalie, Alice Metcalf, Jane Jaskot, Ada Mushinskie, Angelina Jerome, Julia Niccolai, Mary Paci, and Lillian Norcia, who were among the secretaries we had known "in the days gone by."

The office stenographers were Pearl Demianycz, Anne Wojtowicz, Lucy Ezman, Rose Signorelli, Helena Place, and Lucy Melber.

We noticed among the many, busy young telephone operators Mildred Balala, the head supervisor, Catherine Witte, Pearl Anderson, Dorothy McDermott, Catherine Hengeveld, Mary Belli, Mary Donatuccio, Shirley Case, and Evelyn Donkersloot.

The typists we recognized were Margaret Palsi, Louise Brancaccio, Carol Taschler, Mazie De Maria, Bertha Kobylarz, and Josephine De Simone.

In another section of the office were a few comptometrists, May Vreeland, Edythe Houlik and Ann Roma; bookkeepers were Alva Edelman and Mildred Oliva; filing clerks included Jane Smolak, Grace Gambino, Yolanda Paese, Ellena Furman, Ethel Less and Patricia Garley.

In the technical department we found Harold Abend, Edward Swatt and John Arvary working as draftsmen, and Patsy Stamato, Paul Cardella, Alfred Olejarz, Lawrence Casazza and Bernie Focarino as engineers, also Norman Thurling and Fred Siek as electricians.

We were told not to miss the camp factory, so we made an extra trip outside the camp grounds to see how all the uniforms were made. Here, among the many well-known designers who were here to discuss new uniforms for the soldiers, we saw Marie De Lorenzo, Rose Toronto, Anne Colletti, Josephine Collura, Josephine Turner, Phyllis Jurewicz, Josephine Sepede, Florence Maciag, Josephine Scandariato, Angelina Macherone, Lucille Santora, Madelina Pantalon and Rose Morro.

The head seamstress, Norma Gordon, showed us the large group of workers she had in her department, but we didn't recognize any of them.

By this time, we were famished and when our guide took us to the mess-hall for dinner we were deeply grateful indeed. As we entered the huge room, we noticed that, as yet, the soldiers had not come to dinner. We decided to make a tour of the kitchen before eating. However, nearing the kitchen, we heard a terrible commotion; and on entering we saw the head cook, in a big white apron, with a chef's cap on his head and a huge butcher-knife clutched in one hand, hovering over Harold Del Mauro, the food supply man. The cook was shouting something about not getting the right number of supplies. He turned as our guide ordered him to salute, and as he did so, the victim of his outburst escaped through the back door. I was shocked at recognizing the cook—Edward Pistor.

We then had a wonderful dinner and enjoyed chatting with old acquaintances. We were seated at dinner with the Army Chaplain, Helmuth Fichtler, the staff of Camp Recreational Programs, Lucy Fabrizio, Antoinette Melfi, Alice Hartwick and Ethel Klecar, a visiting novelist, Helen Polkowski, and a visiting lecturer, Josephine Peraino.

From the mess-hall we went to the recreational hall where we found an orchestra playing sweetly and softly. Some members of the orchestra were Dorothy Claus, Paul Malinowski, Gabriel Fede, Yolanda Santero and Fred Pytlik. We saw two of our former star athletes, John Cuttito and Daniel "Jumbo" Luciano dancing with Helen Wolfe and Esther Zicarelli, hostesses. There were many other beautiful hostesses talking or dancing with the soldiers. Those we knew were Ella Baillie, Stella Janczyk, Blanche Dolansky, Dorothy Lovrich, and Grace Jackson.

Margie and I talked with some of the officers and with Edwin Dziekonski, the swimming instructor, and John Belluardo, the golf instructor, during recreation period.

During the course of the evening, entertainment was furnished by talented performers. Rosalind Brusic and Barbara Hohn did ballet dancing; Marie Guerrera recited a dramatic monologue which pleased one and all; Eleanor Pokrowski and Lillian Hicswa, roller skating champions, gave us an exhibition of their excellent ability; Edward Tomaszewski, the poet laureate of the camp, recited some of his fine poetry.

As evening drew to a close we were truly sorry our day at Camp Jefferson was over, for we had renewed so many old friendships and had enjoyed ourselves very much.

Leaving the recreation room, and going toward the gates of the camp, we passed the guard-house, where we noticed a young soldier who looked very woebegone. He had been "Absent Without Official Leave" the evening before. As we looked closer, we found him to be Thomas Weever.

Thus we bid goodbye to Camp Jefferson.

When we reached the nearby town, Lodi, we decided to buy some souvenirs before going home. As we walked down Main Street, we passed the store owned by Alfred Glavan and Andrew Kosmenchuk. We entered a large souvenir shop owned by Dominick Callari. Among the many salesgirls in his store were Anne Bochiaro, Marie Guerriero, Lenore Scillia, Wanda Kushay, Connie Baldino and Amelia Rembish.

Here we bought a few reminders of our day at camp, and as we were leaving, we came upon Dominick Viscardi, the prominent Lodi lawyer. He was glad to see us and invited us to have ice cream with him at Arthur Cramer's Ice Cream Parlor. We readily accepted.

On entering the store, we came upon two successful business people of town, Regina Stampone and Michael Panasiuk. We all sat together and slowly sipped our sodas as this memorable day of renewing old acquaintances drew to a close.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the departing seniors of 1941, being in an excellent state of mental and physical health, do declare this our last will and testament.

To Mr. Galanti, we bequeath our deepest gratitude for his help and friendship during the past four years.

To Mr. Grohman, we leave our thanks for being an efficient business manager of this yearbook.

To Mrs. Leveen, our "Magic Casements" adviser, we leave our sincere appreciation for her unfailing efforts.

To Mrs. Karcher, a bottle of henna to cover the gray hair she got being senior adviser.

To the Guidance Department, Mr. Lalumia, Miss Stassi, Miss Toronto, Mr. Lowell, and Mr. De Nooyer, our thanks for guiding us during our stay here at Thomas Jefferson.

To the Senior Class officers, our appreciation for their capable handling of senior affairs.

To Mr. March, a footrest for his P. A. D. classes so he won't have to use the drawer or waste paper basket to rest his feet—also a rattle for little "Butch."

To Mr. De Nooyer, an army blanket, for we hear we are going to lose a fine teacher to Uncle Sam.

To Mr. Scandariato, a nice quiet 6-2 study hall minus those chattering chatterboxes.

To Mr. Maggese, one day when all the students will be on time and when no one will want to be excused.

To Mrs. Gifford, a gym class where every girl will participate in some activity.

To Mr. Piela and Mr. Gaciofano, another team that will achieve another 27 straight victory basketball record.

To Mrs. Del Greco, a repairman to fix a typewriter every time one breaks.

To Miss Scibetta and Miss Smolak, Ed Pistor's ability to bake a cake.

To the Junior Class, our front row seats in the auditorium.

To the Sophomore Class, we leave our book reports, fewer hygiene periods and more assemblies.

To the Freshman Class, we leave our gum on the auditorium seats.

To Lydia Gaveglia, Frank Dresdale's scholastic ability.

To Marion Hoving and Marge Dedinski, our thanks for leading the band so well.

To Dot Bartko, we leave Ella Baillie's flirting technique.

To Katherine Burke, we leave Carmella Ditta's modesty.

To Joe Bush, Ed Pistor's genial friendliness.

To Eddie Stolarz, Zeb's athletic ability.

To Katherine (Red) Patire, Lucy Melber's sophistication.

To the new senior class president, Ed Flejzor's parliamentary technique.

To Dorothy Defarro, Anne Trongone's sweetness.

To Bernard Nowosielecki, some of Bob Abend's height.

To Audrey Becker, Corrine Aberg's vim and vitality.

To Marion Aglito, Claire Fox's humorous jokes.

To Fernanda Hudzik, Florence Maciag's innocence.

To all the English students, pillows to fall asleep on while reading Shakespeare.

To next year's Senior Play cast, an audience as large as ours.

To Hollywood, we leave the Faculty Play cast.

To Howie Janotta, Mike Grembowiec's way of dribbling.

To George Kmetz, Thomas Weaver's taste in dressing.

To next year's candidates for Student Council offices, Ed Tomaszewski's vote-getting technique.

To future Student Service members, a traffic system that will get students to class on time.

To the Board of Education, plans for an elevator to save the students much unnecessary stair-climbing.

To all future students of Lodi High, we leave four years as full of fun as ours have been.

We hereby appoint Mr. Matthews, our supervising principal, as executor of this will, and revoke all former wills. In witness thereof we have subscribed our name this first day of June, One Thousand and Nineteen Hundred and Forty-One.

CLASS OF 1941.

ALMA MATER

Near the Saddle River waters
On a lofty hill,
Stands our noble Alma Mater
Graced in glory still.

From thy walls we'll go inspired
To be great in fame,
We who tread thy halls so stately
Ever love thy name.

Hail to thee, dear Alma Mater
Hail to the Orange and Blue,
May thy memory ever linger
And thy wisdom true.

Ring her praises—never ceasing
As we've always done,
Thee we honor, Alma Mater,
Honor Jefferson.
